DETAILED ACTION

Examiner acknowledges receipt of request for reconsideration, remarks and request for extension of time, all filed 06/03/05. Claims 1-9 and 11-19 are pending.

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 103

1. Claims 1-9 and 11-19 remain rejected under 35 U.S.C. 103(a) as being unpatentable over LeGrow et al. (US 5,932,231) in view of JP 012686615 A.

Applicants argue that the references do not provide suggestion or motivation to modify the references to arrive at the claimed invention; the references do not provide motivation to the person of ordinary skill in the art to prepare a composition having trimethylsilylalkylsilsesquioxane in emulsion form; that the teaching or suggestion to make the claimed combination and reasonably expect success to making emulsion from trimethylsilylalkylsilsesquioxane is based on applicants disclosure; that the polymethylsilsesquioxane is insoluble in water, organics and silicones; that the polymethylsilsesquioxane is a gel and has a much higher molecular weight than the trimethylsilylalkylsilsesquioxane and the trimethylsilylalkylsilsesquioxane is compatible with alkylsiloxanes and some organics and that there is no expectation of success in LeGrow and JP 012686615.

2. Applicants' arguments filed 06/03/2005 have been fully considered but they are not persuasive.

3. In response to applicant's argument that the examiner's conclusion of obviousness is based upon improper hindsight reasoning, it must be recognized that any judgment on obviousness is in a sense necessarily a reconstruction based upon hindsight reasoning. But so long as it takes into account only knowledge which was within the level of ordinary skill at the time the claimed invention was made, and does not include knowledge gleaned only from the applicant's disclosure, such a reconstruction is proper. See In re McLaughlin, 443 F.2d 1392, 170 USPQ 209 (CCPA 1971).

In response to applicants' argument that there is no suggestion to combine the references, the examiner recognizes that obviousness can only be established by combining or modifying the teachings of the prior art to produce the claimed invention where there is some teaching, suggestion, or motivation to do so found either in the references themselves or in the knowledge generally available to one of ordinary skill in the art. See In re Fine, 837 F.2d 1071, 5 USPQ2d 1596 (Fed. Cir. 1988) and In re Jones, 958 F.2d 347, 21 USPQ2d 1941 (Fed. Cir. 1992). In this case, the JP reference is relied upon for a disclosure that silsesquioxanes can be used in cosmetic material for skin and hair and medical products for external application in various forms e.g. cream, water in oil type emulsion, oil in water type emulsion, solid material such as lip stick and lotion. The idea is to form an emulsion and polymethylsiloxane is successfully formulated as emulsion by the JP reference. It is thus expected that the alkylsiloxane would form emulsion. The reliance on the JP reference for forming an emulsion from polymethylsiloxane is not an obvious to try scenario but rather a suggestion that silsesquioxane can be formulated as emulsion and the expectation of success is the ability of a larger molecular weight molecule to form an emulsion so that a smaller molecule would reasonable form an emulsion. The abstract of the JP reference does not refer to the polymethylsiloxane as a gel but refers to polymethylsiloxane as a powder which is used in cosmetic material for skin and hair and medical products for external application in various forms e.g. cream, water in oil type emulsion, oil in water type emulsion. The polymethylsiloxane of the JP reference is not added to the composition of LeGrow but the person of ordinary skill in the art learning from the JP reference that polymethylsiloxane is formulated as emulsion is motivated to formulate the composition of LeGrow as an emulsion with the expectation that the trimethylsiloxane of LeGrow would be successfully included in emulsions.

No claim is allowed.

4. THIS ACTION IS MADE FINAL. Applicant is reminded of the extension of time policy as set forth in 37 CFR 1.136(a).

A shortened statutory period for reply to this final action is set to expire THREE MONTHS from the mailing date of this action. In the event a first reply is filed within TWO MONTHS of the mailing date of this final action and the advisory action is not mailed until after the end of the THREE-MONTH shortened statutory period, then the shortened statutory period will expire on the date the advisory action is mailed, and any extension fee pursuant to 37 CFR 1.136(a) will be calculated from the mailing date of the advisory action. In no event, however, will the statutory period for reply expire later than SIX MONTHS from the mailing date of this final action.
